

Micro-volunteering Opportunities

Where? Across the UK.

How often? When required for events, pop ups and other exciting opportunities.

The Opportunity

Micro-volunteering with Newlife is an exciting new strand of volunteering that will provide endless opportunities to support the Charity in its aims of providing services to disabled children and their families across the UK.

We want to welcome a talented pool of volunteers who are looking to provide one off, ad hoc and flexible volunteering hours to support with different projects that are happening across the organisation.

This could be attending fundraising events with the team, getting creative with our communications department, raising awareness of Newlife and the Charity's work across different locations, providing support to pop ups and new stores... the list is endless!

This role will involve you being part of a volunteer team that we can provide an events calendar to and call on at short notice with new and exciting opportunities available to get involved in. Your commitment is completely down to you, you let us know if you can support on a particular day or at an event and we will provide you with the details. It's flexible and works around you and your day-to-day commitments!

Why volunteer with Newlife?

At Newlife, we want volunteering to be an exciting and fulfilling opportunity that allows you to gain new skills, confidence and experiences whilst making a difference to the lives of disabled children and their families across the UK.

What are the benefits of volunteering?

Volunteering provides many personal, professional, and social benefits such as building confidence, improving mental wellbeing and providing unique experiences. Newlife staff members are on hand to help you achieve all that you want to from your volunteer role and throughout your journey with us.
